

CHICAGO TIED UP BY STREET CAR STRIKE

THREE POINTS ARE BASIS OF STRIKE PEACE

President Harding's Proposals To Rail Men Considered
at Conferences

UNION MEET IN CHICAGO

Railway Executives Holding Parley in New York—Settlement Expected

By Associated Press
Washington—President Harding's proposal for the ending of the rail strike provides with reference to the big controversy a point of seniority that "all employees now on strike be returned to work and to their former positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired."

This was revealed in an announcement from the White House giving the basis of the executive settlement plan
as follows:

THREE PROPOSALS

1—Railway managers and workmen are to agree to recognize the validity of all decisions of railroad labor and to faithfully carry out such decisions as contemplated by the law.
2—The carriers withdraw all law suits growing out of the strike and railroad labor board decisions which have been involved in the strike may be taken, in the exercise of recognized rights by either party to the railroad labor board for rehearing.

3—All employees now on strike to be returned to work and to their former
positions with seniority and other rights unimpaired. The representatives of the carriers and the representatives of the organizations especially agree that there will be no discrimination by either party against employees who did not strike.

These three points it was emphasized at the White House constituted merely the basis for a settlement and the president in transmitting them to B. M. Jewell, leader of the striking shopmen and T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the Association of Railway executives sent a letter amplifying and explaining them. This letter was not made public at the White House.

UNION HEADS MEET

Chicago—The railroad strike Tuesday entered its second month with meetings at Chicago and New York which were expected to end the walk out immediately. Union chiefs were here and railway executives in New York to consider President Harding's plan for a settlement.

At Chicago were most of the 90 general chairmen of the shopcraft workers and several other leaders, including B. M. Jewell president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor and T. J.
Healy head of the striking firemen and others. Mr. Jewell presided. Chairman Ben W. Hooper of the United States Railroad Labor board also was on hand and it was understood that he bore authority to speak for President Harding in case it became necessary. The New York meeting included executives of 148 leading railroads.

MILLERS OF TWO STATES IN MEET

Madison—Problems of the feed dealer, especially the encroachments of the manufacturer, the jobber and the country agent into the field of the legitimate feed dealer, were the topics of discussion late Monday at the seventh annual convention of the Illinois-Wisconsin Miller's and Feed
Dealers' association, held here.

Resolutions were adopted condemning jobbers who either include in the market quotation mailing lists farmers who are buyers of feed from member feed dealers, or who sell to poor farmers. Boycotts were recommended against such jobbers. The action of certain county agents in promoting the pooling of feed buying thereby cutting down the feed business of the legitimate dealer to a minimum was condemned.

San Jose, Calif.—John P. Black, fought little runner-up in the open golf championship at Glencoe, Ill.,

an automobile spill Monday night which caused concussion of the brain

WISCONSIN HAS THIRTY DAY COAL SUPPLY ON HAND

Edward Nordman Leaves Madison Presumably For Conference With Blaine

By Associated Press
Madison—Wisconsin has a 30 day supply of coal on hand according to reports from 10 per cent of the 200 public utilities concerns in the state, said S. E. Schreiber, member of the railroad commission Tuesday. Reports were continuing to come into the commission office in answer to a question nave sent to all state public utilities.

The daily conference of the state fuel administration was dispensed with Tuesday on account of the absence of the Chairman Edward Nordman commissioner of markets who left Monday, after the administration had issued several priority orders. While the nature of his mission was not made public it is thought that he went to see Governor Blaine, who is campaigning in the northern part of the state in interest of his candidacy for reelection and the election of the LaFollette ticket. The fuel administration officials were reticent concerning Mr. Nordman's departure.

The fuel administration will meet again Wednesday prior to the meeting of the leading wholesale coal dealers of the state. The meeting of the wholesale coal dealers will be held Wednesday in the capitol building.
The call for the conference was issued on Monday by the fuel administration.

By Associated Press
Madison—Train No. 408 between Prairie du Sac and Mazomanie on the

In the petition by the railroad upon which the commission based its decision it was said that due to the coal strike an acute shortage existed on this line. The petition stated that this line has been operating at a loss

his annual vacation.

LEWIS CALLS CONFERENCE

COAL MEN ARE INVITED FOR WAGE PARLEY

Union Head Takes Initiative in Asking Mine Operators to Meeting

STRIKE PEACE EXPECTED

Miners Probably Will Be Represented by Eight Men
From Each State

By Associated Press
Philadelphia—A joint wage conference of operators and miners of the central competitive bituminous fields, to be held in Cleveland next Monday, for the purpose of negotiating a basic agreement designed to terminate the present coal strike was called Tuesday by John L. Lewis in ternational president of the United Mine Workers.

President Lewis
also summoned
the general policy committee of the union to meet in Cleveland, at the same time for the purpose of acting promptly upon developments as they may occur in the joint wage conference. All men will remain on strike until an agreement or a definite understanding is reached.

LEWIS MAKES STATEMENT
In connection with the call for the interstate conference, President Lewis gave out the following statement:

"In issuing an invitation to the coal operators of the central competitive field to assemble in joint conference in Cleveland on August 7, I am actuated by the highest consideration of public welfare and the impelling necessity for an early adjudication of the issues involved in the bituminous and anthracite coal fields.

"This strike, unparalleled in its magnitude is now in its eighteenth week and constitutes an industrial convulsion which menaces the financial and social fabric of our nation. Aside from the tremendous personal sacrifices so bravely endured by the mine workers the strike is exacting penalties from every citizen of our land and is clogging the channels of commerce and disturbing the realms of finance and repeatedly stated by the civilized world.
Its effect will continue to be felt long after its termination and the burden will fall heaviest upon those least able to bear it.

CITY PLANNER HAS PLANS READY FOR STUDY BY COUNCIL

Zoning Ordinance Will Be Submitted to Commission in Near Future

City planning and zoning will soon be coming to head in Appleton for the Appleton zoning ordinance which Professor Leonard S. Smith, city planning engineer, will present to the city planning commission and ultimately to the common council for adoption is now completed.

The commission might hold a meeting soon to examine the plans and maps and ordinance submitted by Professor Smith. There will be nearly a dozen maps each having to do with one or other angle of the city planning and zoning project. One map shows the arterial thoroughfare system that the council may be asked to decide upon. Three of the maps illustrate the zoning proper. One of these is perhaps one of the most detailed maps ever made of Appleton showing the present use of the land within the city limits, the residences, institutions, business places and factories. Another shows the intensity of the use of the land and the proportion of the lots occupied by the buildings. The third may indicate the boundary lines of the zones such as the residential, commercial and light manufacturing heavy industrial and local business districts.

MAY CHANGE LATER

The function of zoning, Mr. Smith explained, is not to restrict forever the use of certain sections of the city. No iron-clad boundaries will be made. The council will, on the contrary, be authorized to modify the boundaries to meet existing conditions, he said.

F. E. Stooling, director of public works in Milwaukee, who drew the plans for and inaugurated the Milwaukee zoning project was in Appleton last week to study the city and the maps of Professor Smith and found but one change to make in the present plans.

NEW MACHINE TO SPEED ROAD WORK

Greinke Company Buys Caterpillar Truck Equipped With New Graders

Grading on the federal-state road building project on the Menard road will be greatly expedited by the use of a tractor and three scrapers attached to the tractor in a unit. Greinke Brothers, who are in charge of the road construction of the 20th and a half miles of concrete here, have purchased a five-ton Caterpillar tractor made by the Holt Manufacturing Co. of Peoria to be used in this work. It is built on the order of an army tank. Three Baker scrapers capable of excavating a cubic yard of dirt each are attached to the tractor. One man is seated on each of the scrapers to operate the scrapers alternately. The machines are said to do the work of 10 or 12 teams and a recent test showed that they dug up 750 feet of dirt in 4 minutes and 38 seconds. The tractor is capable of making a complete turn on a road.

Buick 1923 Models Show Many Improvements

All Fourteen Models Given Class "A" Rating

No single season in recent years has seen so many improvements in Buick cars as the present one, and never has the Buick line been so complete.

The engine for example is fitted with longer pistons and connecting rods adding to the smoothness and long wear for which the Buick engine has always been noted. A new rear spring suspension has been devised which is undoubtedly the highest development of the cant-lever type yet achieved. The frame transmits the rear axle to the brakes, the bodies and the equipment, each shows the hand of the skilled designer by some new and valuable features.

The insurance companies have rated all fourteen models as Class "A" fire risks because of the safety of their electrical and gasoline systems and have materially reduced the theft insurance rate. This means a big saving in insurance premiums over cars not so rated. It also indicates the close attention to detail that has been paid to these Buick cars for the season of 1923.

As in the case of the excellent models the Buick four cylinder cars have been redesigned this season not merely in the sense of giving them a new appearance but with the object of making them better and more efficient automobiles in every department of motor service.

These changes begin with the frame which has been entirely redesigned and continue through the important mechanical units of the car from an easier and simpler method of oiling the rocker arms to an improved method of driving the speedometer.

The body is larger and roomier with lower lines and added grace of appearance. There are new and improved fenders top wind shield head lights side curtains.

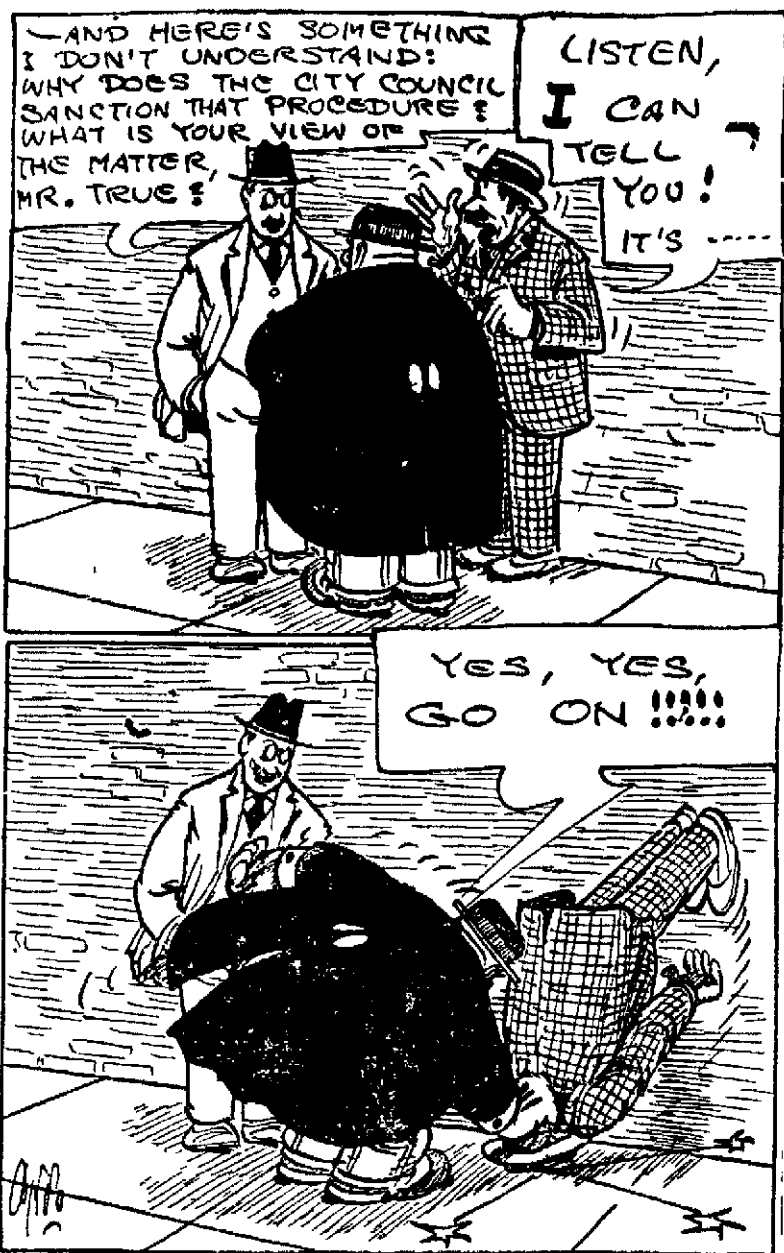

There is an improved spring suspension new upholstery improved dash equipment new arrangement of seats longer and lower steering column and a number of other features that add materially to riding and driving comfort.

There is a transmission lock to prevent theft which reduces insurance rates materially. Other improvements place the Buick Four in Class "A" as fire insurance risks, securing for the owner lower insurance rates.

These are part and only part of the changes that apply to all four cylinder models. Each model has its own special improvements because each has been redesigned as a unit.

FARMS IN GRAND CHUTE SUFFER BIG LOSSES IN STORM

Buildings Unroofed, Silo Destroyed and Trees Leveled by High Wind

A shattered silo, a capsized and twisted corn crib, a leveled elm grove and a partially damaged barn are among the destruction caused by the miniature tornado Sunday evening.

A double wall silo built of fir wood and owned by John Heiman of Grand Chute was flattened to the ground. The silo was about 10 by 30 feet in size. A corn crib on the farm of Leo Gregorius, Grand Chute, was blown over on a hay rake. The hay rake was destroyed, but the crib was only twisted and is still capable of being used. Five massive trees of an elm grove near the Garvey cheese factory were snapped off. The trees were about two feet in diameter. The wind was especially furious in the neighborhood of the Herman Hooyman farm on the Freedom rd. The doors of the barn owned by John McCann were blown off some of the boards being thrown across the street and into the windows of W. E. Garvey's home. A roller of the barn door was hurled through the windows of the McCann home. The siloed boards beat a tattoo on the roof of the Garvey cheese factory and punctured holes through it.

MILWAUKEE COMES HERE STRONG FOR SHOE CONVENTION

Cream City Manufacturers Lease Large Part of Armory for Exhibits

Coming to Appleton to attend the convention of the Wisconsin Shoe Retailers association opening Tuesday of next week for three days will be like going on an observation trip in shoe factories from Maine to Minnesota. An innovation in state shoe conventions is the reason. The armory has been engaged for the three days by the local committee and will be converted into an exhibition hall and buying market in which 56 of the largest shoe manufacturing and jobbing concerns in the country will have booths.

Opportunities are to be given delegates at designated hours each day to visit the armory, but the building will be closed during business or entertainment sessions at Eagle hall. The exposition, sets will be at 7:30 Tuesday evening, Aug. 8, when meetings will be suspended and a concert given in the armory.

MILWAUKEE FORMS "POOL"
Milwaukee shoe firms will predominate. They have pooled their efforts at exposition with the idea of impressing upon the dealer that Milwaukee is the greatest buying market in the shoe and hosiery industry. Twenty-five firms from that city have commandeered a section of the armory for their displays.

The Milwaukee booths will be arranged down both sides of the main aisle and at the end of the armory. Above will be signs of carrying the slogan, "Quality first—always—Milwaukee."

Everything that may be found in the modern shoe store will be on display, from jacks to rubber boots. The feature booths probably will be those showing the new fall and winter creations for women. There will be displays for men, women and children. Supply firms also will be represented with polishes, orthopedic supplies and other footwear incidentals.

Firms are entering enthusiastically into the idea of conducting convention exhibits and it is understood that some are putting themselves to considerable expense to promote their goods. Living models are expected to demonstrate for some houses. Every exhibiting space in the hall was taken with a rush and the lack of room made it necessary for the committee to turn down many manufacturers. These are the concerns that will be represented at the armory:

Milwaukee—Rich Shoe Co., Oden Shoe Co., Weyenberg Shoe Manufacturing Co., Simplex Shoe Manufacturing Co., Nunn, Bush & Vetter Shoe Co., Albert H. Weinbrunner Co., Edward A. Luedke Shoe Co., Northward Shoe Co., Howard Lestz Shoe Co., Marshall Bros., F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co., Robt. Shoe Mfg. Co., Beals & Pratt shoe Mfg. Co., V. # H. N. TOLLES TO SPEAK HERE AUG. 22

Chicago Educator Will Address Joint Meeting of Rotarians, Lions, and C. of C.

Preliminary preparations are being made for the appearance here Aug. 22 of Harry N. Tolles, Chicago, president of the Sheldon business school. He is to speak at a joint meeting of the Rotary and Lions clubs and the chamber of commerce.

The Rotary club will be addressed at its meeting Tuesday, Aug. 8, by one of the speakers at the convention of the Wisconsin Shoe Retailers as that meeting will be in session at that time. On Aug. 15 the Rotarians will go to Waupaca by automobile, where they will visit the Appleton boys scouts at Camp Onaway.

Rotary members from Green Bay will be guests of the Appleton club here Aug. 29 at a joint picnic and field meet similar to the one at High Cliff recently in which Rotarians and Lions participated.

FELTON ON PROGRAM FOR HEALTH MEETING

Dr. William C. Felton, Appleton health commissioner, has been given a part of the program of state health meeting in Madison Aug. 14 to 19. He is to take part in the discussion of the topic, "Practical Aspects of the Care of Infantile Paralysis and Other Crippling Deformities of Childhood," which will be presented by Dr. Chester C. Schneider of Milwaukee. Dr. A. C. Dana of Fond du Lac, will assist in the discussion.

An extensive program for the joint meeting of health officers and public health nurses has been prepared by the state board of health. The sessions Monday and Saturday will be held in the assembly chamber of the capitol, and all others at Monona park assembly hall across Lake Monona. Outing features are planned. The law requires every health officer attending to be reimbursed for expenses by the employment unit.

"Organization and Duties of Local Boards of Health," "Heating and Ventilating Rural School Rooms," "Control of Diphtheria," "Scarlet Fever, Measles and Whooping Cough," "Typhoid Fever and Other Water-borne Diseases," "Pneumonia and Influenza," are some of the subjects that will be presented.

Buck Tells Scouts What They Should Take To Camp

Careful Selection of Clothing Means More Comfort at Camp Onaway

"What shall I take along to camp?" That question has been asked so often of H. P. Buck, boy scout executive, that he has prepared a list of articles for the scouts to include in their camp kits for the summer camp at Onaway, which opens next week.

Selection of the wardrobe is one of the first essentials to be considered in preparing to go to camp, Mr. Buck said. Many a vacation has been spoiled for lack of proper clothing. Any boy who has been in camp before appreciates the value of an adequate wardrobe and such other articles that help make camp life agreeable.

Every scout who has a uniform should wear it, the executive said. He should also take along an extra shirt, extra underwear, extra stockings. An extra pair of shoes will be appreciated, if the scout gets his feet wet. A pair of old trousers for "roughing it," is not to be forgotten. He should also have a sweater or wool shirt, a bathing suit, night shirt or pajamas and a supply of handkerchiefs. The only bedding that will be required is blankets of the equivalent of five pounds of wool. Every boy will want to include the following toilet articles: Tooth brush, tooth paste, soap, towels, comb and small mirror. The entire equipment should be placed in a sea chest 15 x 15 x 24, or a sea bag that can be purchased in Appleton for about 29 cents.

As each boy will want to write home regularly, he will provide himself with pencil and notebook. He may have some patching to do while in camp and therefore should have needles thread, buttons, pins and safety pins. He will not forget his Bible or prayer book. Among other suggestions offered by Mr. Buck are an extra pair of shoe strings, pocket knife, fishing tackle, flashlight, kodak and supplies, raincoat, scout handbook, music instrument, compass, scout diary, scout axe, hike kit, watch, signal flags, sneakers, waterproof blanket, mosquito netting and canteen.

CANCEL HEARING AGAINST KONZ BOX AND LUMBER CO.

A hearing on the complaint filed by the Twin City Auto Body works against the Konz Box and Lumber company which was scheduled to be held before the Wisconsin Marketing department last week, has been canceled by Alvin C. Reis, general counsel for the department. Action was started by the Auto Body works, manufacturers of cheese boxes, charging the Appleton company with unfair competition. "Discrimination in prices charged for cheese boxes for the purpose of destroying the business" of the Neenah firm was charged. An order bearing on the case is expected to be issued by the marketing department shortly.

A large barn, 40 by 80 feet, on the William Timm farm, north of Five Corners, was blown over and demolished in the wind storm Sunday evening. About 40 tons of hay and a team of horses was in the structure. The horses were dug out of the debris, uninjured. One was thrown and the other was hanging from its halter. The loss, it was reported, was covered by cyclone insurance.

A barn on the Herman Proester farm, east of Five Corners, was moved four or five inches on its foundation but was not tipped over.

It is here for you in this Family Service we offer. What is most disagreeable on washday? Isn't it the mussiness of wash water: the steam of boilers and tubs, the lifting and hauling?

And it's of that we relieve you—at a cost truly moderate.

We take your family bundle, wash it sweetly clean in soothingly soft waters and billowy, glistening suds; and rinse it many times in more water sparklingly pure.

Next we daintily iron the flat pieces; the things like bath towels we dry softly and fluffily — they need no ironing; and other pieces that require it we starch and make ready for you to iron in your own home.

In a word, we do all the toilsome, mussy work of washday, and leave for you only the milder, pleasanter task of ironing the lighter pieces.

It's a truly economical service within the means of every woman — we're sure you'll like it immensely.

Hair Often Ruined By Careless Washing

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulified in a cup or glass with a little warm water is sufficient to cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excess oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulified.

Heat Of July Chills Ardor Of Dan Cupid

The crisis in the matrimonial fever that affected a large number of Outagamie-co. young couples this spring seems now to be safely passed. But the health of Dr. Cupid's patients is now feared for in another way. From blood heat the temperature has dropped to freezing and love seems to have been chilled by the July heat. The drop from June's unprecedented record of 86 marriage licenses to 18 in July is "some" drop. This is but seven more than the low Lenten record in March. May's record, though lower than that of the same month last year, showed at least 44. It was feared right along in June that the marriage market could not keep up the astonishing gait and the "I-told-you-so" crowd was right, as usual.

THE STAGE

"Bachelor Daddy"

Today Tom Meighan in "The Bachelor Daddy" starts a run for three days. This picture has been the topic of conversation for some time past and we know the patrons of Fischer's Appleton will be pleased at this announcement.

Standing out at intervals on the roadway of the past pictures that leave in your mind pleasant memories—pictures that are so genuinely good that you registered the wish that the future would bring more just like them. In this category was "Prince Chap" and now comes its logical successor from the novel by the same author with the same star. Much could be said of this picture—but there is one judgment alone that counts with you—your own.

A two reel comedy "False Alarm" and the latest news weekly will also be shown.

Silver Is Most Popular Present For Newlyweds

When it comes to giving a wedding present, it is a tossup between fine glassware and silverware, according to the jewelers who supply a large percentage of the wedding presents. At one store the clerk said that until this year silver had been the biggest seller, but recent purchases have brought engraved glass into prominence. The old heavy cut glass is out of date for ordinary use but is used extensively in vases and exquisitely cut plates.

Silver, which still seems to be the biggest favorite is sold in all kinds of things. For several years flat pieces of silver to match "her set" were the most popular gift, but recently hollow silver is in greater demand. Covered dishes, bon bon dishes, cheese and cracker dishes, bread and cake trays, tea sets and everything else in silver is being sold.

Few wedding presents are returned to the jeweler because of duplications, partly because of the precaution taken by the jeweler himself. Some of them keep a list of the gifts which are purchased for a large wedding in his shop, others try to remember what has already been purchased. Wedding presents these days are given by near relatives and close friends who know very nearly what the young couple will like and what else will be given them. Most people choose their gifts with utmost care in regard to the tastes of the bride and the practicability of the articles.

KAUKAUNA DREAM OF CIVIC CENTER TO BE REALIZED

Buy Tract of Land Near New High School — More Contracts Awarded

Kaukauna — Action by the local board of education at a meeting Monday evening in the council rooms practically closed the deal for the purchase of about five acres of land adjacent to the new high school building. The board decided to take the property at once from the Green Bay and Mississippi Canal Co. for a consideration of $3,500. With the territory owned by the school, the dreams of a community center and park come nearer to realization. It was thought that it would be impossible to secure the land and that the new high school would have rather inappropriate surroundings.

Several contracts for fixtures in the new institution also were let. The contract for clock system, fire alarms and telephones was awarded to Herman Andre Electric Co. of Milwaukee for $2,170. Frank Wescher of Menominee, Mich., secured the contract for plumbing, heating, ventilation and air conditioning for $34,500. The Jansen Service Co. will receive $5,000 and has been awarded the contract for the installation of temperature regulation.

It is feared that the strikes will seriously delay progress on the new building. Brick has not been coming as fast as it should and the construction company is about ready to begin working with "ham." A committee of consisting of education and Mr. Simon, superintendent of construction, was appointed to go to Green Bay Tuesday to see what might be done to secure rapid delivery.

A committee also was appointed to investigate and report at the next meeting on the type of boilers to be used in the new building. The board adjourned until Monday, August 7, after a long session.

COUNT 3,800 CARS ON LITTLE CHUTE ROAD ON SUNDAY

Cars Pass Kimberly Station at Rate of 223 Cars Every Hour

Sunday tourist traffic in Outagamie co. is practically double that of weekday traffic, it was learned in another road traffic count conducted by the county highway authorities Sunday at Kimberly station. Whereas 2,113 vehicles were counted on the same spot two weeks ago, no fewer than 3,794 passed in 17 hours Sunday from 6 o'clock in the morning to 11 at night. It is believed that the traffic would have exceeded 4,000 had it not been for the storm. This is a rate of 223 cars an hour, or approximately four a minute. The heaviest hour of the day was from 7 to 8 in the evening, in which 406 cars were counted.

Dobbin was left in the shade, for there were only 12 horse drawn wagons, as compared with the 3,782 motor vehicles. Wisconsin cars were most numerous there being 3,465 Badger automobiles, as compared with the 152 foreign cars. There also were 55 light trucks, 42 heavy trucks and 68 motorcycles.

Of the foreign cars the state of Illinois was best represented. The count by states was as follows: Illinois 63 Michigan 13, California 9, New Jersey 9, New York 8, Pennsylvania 7, Iowa 7, Washington 6, Minnesota 5, Ohio 5, Indiana 5, Texas 4, Maine 3, Louisiana 3, Connecticut, Florida, Rhode Island, Missouri and Tennessee 1 each.

LIONS WILL STUDY STREET NAMES HERE

Meeting Probably Will Be Held at Boy Scout Camp in August

Consideration will be given Appleton's street naming and house numbering problem by Appleton Lions club. It was decided at the regular weekly meeting Monday noon. The civic committee will study the various plans suggested thus far and it is possible that the club will recommend a plan for more serious consideration by the common council.

Arrangements probably will be made to hold a meeting of the club at Onaway island, Chain O'Lakes, Waupaca, while Appleton Boy Scouts are camping there. The scouts have invited the club to hold a meeting with them and inspect their camp. The program committee is to arrange details.

THREE COUNTY NURSES ON MADISON PROGRAM

Miss Bertha Schultz of Appleton, county nurse, Miss Jennie Bell of Kaukauna, and Miss Helen Stimson of Kimberly, will have active parts in the annual conference of public health nurses which is to be held in conjunction with the biennial conference of health officers in Madison the week of Aug. 14.

Miss Schultz will speak on "Records for Rural Work," while the Misses Stimson and Bell will talk on "Industrial Nursing." Functions of public health nurses and state and federal activities are subjects on the program. "Nutrition Cures," "Care of the Pre-school Child," "Dependent and Delinquent Children," "Civilization Rehabilitation," "What May Be Accomplished Under the Shepard-Towner act," "Skin Diseases Among School Children," are subjects that will be presented by physicians and nurses.

THE CANNING SEASON IS HERE

Every housekeeper should begin now to replenish her stock of canned fruits and vegetables, jellies and preserves.

There are three reasons why she should always keep on hand a goodly supply of these foods: first, to make her family healthier and better nourished; second, to provide a pleasing variety of succulent, tender young fruits and vegetables throughout the winter instead of having them only during the short time when they are in season; third, to save food which otherwise would go to waste.

Canning is not difficult if one understands the reason for each step in the method. There is absolutely no chance of spoilage if proper instructions are followed.

The States Relations Service has gone thoroughly into the science of canning and has issued an authoritative booklet on this subject. It explains the different processes, the proper equipment to use, and gives tested recipes. This is a free Government publication and our Washington Information Bureau will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below. Enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

Shamrock Troop Of Girl Scouts Win Many Honors In Week's Camp At Lake

Girls Win Merits For Good Work at Womens Club Cottage—Six Girls Make Good as Swimmers.

Shamrock troop Girl Scouts returned late Saturday afternoon from a week of camping at Happy Hut, tired but happy, for most of them had won many honors and had worked for their scout merit badges. Miss Eleanor Hails, who chaperoned the troop, is its captain and it was largely through her efforts that the 24 girls who remained the entire week had so many good times in connection with their scout camping experiences.

May Hails is one of the pioneer scout leaders in Appleton. It is because of her faithful work that the girl scout movement has been gaining so much favor with parents of scout age girls in Appleton.

Miss Edna Bloomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bloomer, 656 State-st., and Miss Dorothy Brush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Brush of Chicago, received the highest honor which the girls themselves could give to one of their number. On Saturday the two girls tied in a vote to determine who had shown the best camp spirit during the entire week. Although much credit is due to Miss Bloomer for her willingness to help and be of service, additional credit is given to Miss Brush, who is a member of a Chicago troop and who was a guest of the Shamrocks, for being able to find her place at once in a group of girls she had never met before.

HONORED EACH DAY

Each day the girl who had shown the best spirit was given the honor of lowering the flag in the evening and raising it in the morning. The girls who received this honor were Bonnell Heinzl, Sunday, Rosalind Harbeck, Monday, Dorothy Brush, Tuesday, Louise Hopfensberger, Wednesday, Edna Bloomer, Thursday, Laura Gilman, who is the lieutenant of the troop, Friday.

To Miss Ethel Gloudemans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gloudemans 455 Prospect st. goes the honor of receiving the largest number of merits in camp, 281 and no demerits. Miss Eunice Bloomer, sister of Miss Edna Bloomer, received the next highest number of points, 259. For every 50 points the girls received an honor thus making these two girls five honor scouts.

The scouts who received no demerits for failure to perform their work properly for being late to meals, off the property without permission, noise during quiet hours and other violations of camp rules, were Edna Bloomer, Dorothy Cainin, Margaret Murphy, Florence Hertel, Louise Murphy, Louise Hopfensberger, Ethel Gloudemans, Mary Gloudemans and Marie Hobbins.

The four honor scouts, who received

200 or more merits, were Dorothy Brush, Helen Gilman, Doris Thompson; three honor scouts receiving 150 or more points, Edna Bloomer, Marie Fountain, Rosalind Harbeck, Margaret Heibel, Bonalein Heinzl, Louise Hopfensberger, Marie Hobbins, Florence Hertel, Helen Lupton, Margaret Murphy, Francis Roblee; two honor scouts or those receiving more than 100; Mary Gloudemans, Doris Hoffman, Rita McKenny, Louise Murphy and Margaret Rooney. One honor scout or those receiving 50 or more points, Kathleen Cooney and Marjorie Cainin. The girls in the last two groups were mostly those who were on the sick list or who remained at camp only part of the time.

In order to encourage the spirit of friendly rivalry and competition, the girls were divided into two camps, the Happy Hunters with Edna Bloomer as president and the Good Sports with Miss Doris Hoffman as president. Discipline was maintained inside the camp largely by the demeriting power of the president of each group who gave her girls demerits for certain violations of rules. At the end of the week, the girls of the Happy Hunters' group had 517 merits and 19 demerits, while the Good Sports had 332 merits and 17 demerits.

The work of the camp was done by the girls with a certain number of merits given for each task, depending either on the amount of actual work or the disagreeable features of the jobs. Work in nature and bird study, camp singing, swimming and poetry memorizing was also rewarded by the merit system. Many of the girls combined the requisites for scout tests and merit badges with their work at camp.

ALL GET BADGES

Badges showing the number of honors won at camp were given the girls on the last day. One of the features of the presentation was the badge, covered with honors which was presented to Miss Mary Jansen, cook and caretaker at the cottage, who had been very patient and good natured about the work which was being done by the girls in her kitchen.

Several girls received their merit badges for swimming while at camp. They were required to swim 50 yards to swim 25 feet with their clothes on, to undress in water over their heads, to retrieve an object in water 8 feet deep, to rescue a drowning person, to use the Schaefer method of resuscitation, to swim 25 feet under water, to row a boat and dive from it, to dive three different ways and to swim three different strokes.

Those who received their swimming badges were Doris Thompson, Marie Hobbins, Margaret Murphy, Dorothy Brush, Eunice Bloomer and Margaret Rooney.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Preston, John Schuch and Mrs. A. Pierce autoted to Oshkosh Saturday.

CAN'T GET MAIDS ENOUGH TO FILL DEMAND FOR HELP

Small Registration Fee Will Be Asked for Womens Club Bureau

According to reports from the employment agency at Appleton Womens clubroom, there is a greater demand for experienced and reliable maids than can be filled at the present time. With the closing of the agency in the Green store, practically the only employment office for women is that which has been taken up by the local club. The Y. M. C. A. agency has been referring all its women inquiries to the clubroom.

In order to insure better service to those who are inquiring for help and those who are looking for work, a small registration fee will be charged which will be refunded when the worker is located. Up to this time girls have registered for work at the club and when they found a place, did not notify the agency that they were no longer available. This resulted in the agency giving out names of few women who have called for maids. Women who have notified the agency when they had procured the girls they wanted.

All Appleton women who are in need of help or work are urged to make use of the agency. Many calls come to the agency for women to clean and to do washing as well as for girls to take care of children. The greatest demand, however, is for experienced and capable maids.

The TATTOOED ARM

Isabel Ostrander COPY BY SEA Service, Inc.

"Wells is an old foot!" Andrew continued. "I say, there is nothing any of us can do for Roger; he'll sleep like a baby tonight and be all right in the morning. I'm going out and I shan't be back until late but I'll take my key and I won't disturb you if you'll tell Carter not to put the chain on the door."
He strode heavily from the room and in another moment Miss Drake and Hobart followed.

"It's work for nothing to set the table for them; they don't hardly touch a thing!" Carter mourned, as he and Miles cleared away the final debris of the meal. "I'm sure it don't know where it's going to end!"
"What's there to be scared of?" Miles asked stoutly. "I've seen nothing hating that fainting spell of Mr. Roger's today. Is he often took like that?"

Carter shook his head.
"Only once before and that was just a day or two after—after the constable brought Mr. Hobart home when he'd been walking in his sleep. That's what you heard, ain't it, William?" He asked the question with almost pathetic eagerness.

"No," William replied bluntly. "If you want the truth I heard he was either drunk or crazy."
"Not a thing had he touched that night, for I had the only set of keys to the wine cellar!" Carter asserted solemnly. "I've yet to see Mr. Hobart in liquor but I can't say as much for Mr. Andrew. Mr. Andrew was a trial to the rest of the family when he came back, though he's toned down considerably, especially in his language. It was shocking to hear, William."

"I shouldn't be surprised," Miles observed. "Did he bring those fits back with him, too, from Australia?"
"You mean what happened last Monday?" Carter lowered his voice.

"If you want to know my opinion from what I could get out of Edward I think Mr. Andrew was shamming, though the Lord only knows why."
Miles glanced sharply at the old man but his tone was casual as he remarked:
"He was playing a trick on Edward, maybe, but there was no fake about Mr. Roger's faint today."

"No, and as for Mr. Hobart, I'm glad he's given up the stock market before he lost everything, though sometimes I've wished that the money never came in the first place! It was that made all three of them act queer long ago, and though I almost forgot about it in the years between, perhaps they've been wrong in the head ever since."

"How do you mean they acted queer when they came into their money?" asked Miles.
"I remember when the news came it struck me then that not one of them seemed really happy about it or even surprised. Mr. Hobart seemed to think only of getting back at other folks for all the years of hardship they'd been through; getting rich by making other folks poor! It gave me the shivers to hear him! You would have thought that there was a death in the house!" continued Carter.
"They didn't talk to each other any more; they had to, didn't scarcely look at each other and it seemed as though there was almost hatred between them!" Mr. Andrew had used fits of temper that he'd never showed before and other times Mr. Roger would break down and go all to pieces right out of a clear sky; only Mr. Hobart kept a level head on his shoulders and all at once I noticed that the hair at each side of his forehead was turning gray—and him only 23! But quiet years came after, and comfortable ones, and I forgot until this trouble now brought it all back to me."

CHAPTER XIV
Like two house breakers, Sergeant Miles and Scottie stole up the stairs that night and halted before the door at the end of the hall.
As he drew the skeleton keys from his pocket Miles indicated the traces of wax which still adhered to the lock. Then he whispered: "Andrew! He wanted to get in here mighty bad, didn't he?"

Scottie nodded, not trusting himself to speak, and his companion offered the lock and key-hole carefully before setting to work. He made no noise but the minutes dragged out interminably while the other watched and listened tensely for a possible interruption. The key clicked faintly in the lock and the door swung slowly inward.

"Wait till I close the door," Miles commanded; then as a tiny light gleamed out: "Good! There's a bolt on the inside and we can't be surprised. Andrew may come home at any time and I have a hunch that he'll try to finish then what he started this afternoon."

"It looks as though he'd made a pretty thorough job of it if destruction was his object," Scottie commented dryly as the rapier-like thrust of light played about the dense blackness of the room. "May the devil take us if we're not in a museum!"

They were in a huge, low-ceilinged room which had evidently been long unused for human occupancy. On the left trunks and packing cases of all shapes and sizes were heaped pell-mell with broken hampers. From their depths a heterogeneous mass of relics and manuscripts had been scattered in all directions.

Haughty, though fragmentary idols and humble cooking pots, fearsome weapons, bits of crumbled carving, and among them all roll after roll of ancient parchment together with notebooks of a more modern day.

Scottie approached a long, metal lined box and after one glance with-in promptly retreated.

"It's a mummy!" Miles gazed briefly down at the small, tightly swathed form and then turned differently away. "If Andrew found what he was looking for this afternoon, we are wasting our time, but I don't think he was successful. Those note-books must contain the result of years of study and classification and see how the pages are torn out and scattered about!"

"Then it was writing that Andrew was after, and modern writing at that, for he's only thrown the parchment aside!" Scottie gathered up a handful of the loose sheets and examined them critically.
"But what was he looking for? That's what we've got to find out. What would Roger have written and carted all around the world with him that his brother would want badly enough to steal? Mr. Wells told me that the three brothers were devotedly attached to each other, but I have seen small evidence of affection on Andrew's part for any of them."

"Do you see all these odd caskets of metal and carved bone?" Scottie was playing his torch over the ancient relics which littered the floor.

"Perhaps we can find one or two that hasn't been broken open."

It was long past midnight when they desisted at last and Miles remarked with a shrug:
"I guess we'd better give it up, old man. If there was anything here bearing on our problem Andrew must have made off with it, after all."

Scottie suppressed a sneeze heroically as the dust which still floated in the air assailed his nostrils, and replied in a strangled voice:
"The mould of the ages is eating into my lungs and there's a musty, spicy reek from that mummy!"

"The mummy?" Miles struck his hands together softly. "It's the one place we never thought of, Scottie! We're not beaten yet!"
He darted over to the long, coffin-like case and his companion followed somewhat reluctantly.

"The person doesn't appear to have been disturbed since the Pyramids were built," he ventured. "What are you about, lad? You're never going to undress it!"
"It's Peruvian, not Egyptian; don't you see the inscription?" replied Miles in a quick, excited whisper. "Moreover, the wrappings about the head and breast have been unwound within a very few years at most and then replaced!"

Miles inserted his hand with infinite care beneath the displaced fabric which covered the shrunken flint-like breast and drew forth a slender roll of parchment. Scottie hastily returned his unwelcome burden to its original position and strode around the case to stare over his friend's shoulder at the discovery.

"It's in figured writing!" he exclaimed disgustedly as the roll unwound. "You'd never be able to read it and it would do you no good if you did! I've no doubt it's a prayer. Put it back, Owen. It's defying Providence!"

"Defying your grandmother!" Miles interrupted. "This message is in Egyptian hieroglyphics, Scottie. I know that much—Egyptian pictures writing in the wrappings of a Peruvian mummy—get me a piece of that parchment from the floor will you?"

Scottie complied and held both his torch and that of his companion while the latter compared the texture of the scrolls. At length he drew a quick breath and faced the older man with shining eyes.

"I can't read a word of it as you say, but by the Lord Harry I think we've got it! There are professors in town who can decipher it for us and be depended upon to hold their tongues afterward, and we'll see that it reaches one of them tomorrow!"

"It can't be what Andrew was looking for!" Scottie expostulated. "He certainly cannot translate hieroglyphs!"

"Nor would he have known that it was what he wanted if he had found it!" retorted Miles. "Can't you see, old man? That was the intention of the person who placed it there. It is something that had to be preserved and yet must be undecipherable to anyone not a student of Egyptology!"

"Miles stowed papyrus and parchment carefully in his pocket. Switching off their torches they stole from the room, but as Miles unlocked the door behind them his companion seized his arm.

"Do you hear that?" Scottie's husky whisper breathed in his ear. "Someone's up, and there's a wee streak of light coming from that room at the front. Whose is it?"

"Hobart's," whispered Miles in reply. "Flatten yourself against the wall and walk as lightly as you can; we're going to look into this!"

Foot by foot they crept along the hall until they neared Hobart's door, and then halted as though transfixed, for the voice of Miss Drake, trembling and charged with long pent-up emotion, came to the listener's ears.

"It's no use! If we were the only ones concerned I would have kept this from you but it shall not be visited upon the next generation! I know the truth, Hobart! I have always known!"

NEW HEADRESS IS GIVING THEATRE
GOERS A PROBLEM

Impossible to See Any of the Show Unless You Are Seated in Front Row

By Marian Hale

Paris is all worked up over the new style of head-dress which is becoming so wide and so broad and so generally overdeveloped. Theater owners are getting nervous.

What chance, they ask, wisely enough, has anyone who isn't seated in the front row, to get any view of the stage?

One might as well try to look through a jungle as to try to see light through the waving plumes, feathers, fauna and flora that are going to grow on the heads of long and short-haired sisters alike.

If these were hats, one might with propriety ask for their removal—but they aren't. They're on to stay just as much as the costume is. To remove one would bring about the downfall of the coiffure.

I ask you, what's to be done? These bandeaus, now so aspiring had a humble origin. The first head-band was a garter.

A princess, finding during the hunt that her hair was becoming disarranged and having neither the hairpins, net or ribbons necessary to remedy it, resourcefully bound her garter about her locks.

Louis XIV, escort of the princess, liked the style immensely, complimented her, and all the ladies of the court adopted it.

You can see to what length the garter style now has gone. Likewise you see the prospects ahead for the devotee of the drama.

What is one to do?

Paris hasn't solved the matter and meanwhile the head-dresses mount with the thermometer!

NATURE FACTS AND FREAKS

PINE SQUIRREL OF ROCKIES

By Prof. M. J. Elrod

The eastern red squirrel has a western representative in the pretty, scorable, and common pine squirrel of the western coniferous forests. Its scientific name is Sciurus hudsonicus richardsoni, which the student of names may easily analyze. Its cheerful disposition, inquisitive habits, constant activity, and wonderful instincts combine to make it a most interesting companion of the travelers of the forests of the great west.

Its call, from which it gets a name "chickaree," is one of the common sounds of the forest, either near man's dominion or in the fastnesses where man has not yet penetrated. Its keen eye detects from a height in the tree the intrusion of any animal in its domain. Many a deer has been saved from the hunter's gun by its cry of alarm.

Its mode of store for winter use illustrates a remarkable, though often erring instinct. A tamarack tree 150 feet high, loaded with cones, will be stripped by industrious squirrels before a single cone is carried to the caches. The ground may be literally covered. They expertly snip the cones off at the rate of 40 to 65 per minute, cones rattling on the ground at the rate of almost one per second.

But a different method is employed in handling the large cones of the yellow pine. These are about as large around as the squirrel, and half as long, with sharp prickly points to the scales.

Instead of throwing the heavy cones on the ground as is done with red fir and tamarack, the industrious little fellow climbs to the top, sometimes more than a hundred feet, runs out on the end of a limb, plucks a cone, carried it by the base, the point sticking high above the squirrel's head, goes carefully down the tree head first, disappears in the woods, only to return in a few minutes to repeat the process. To collect cones and seeds is to follow these little collectors.

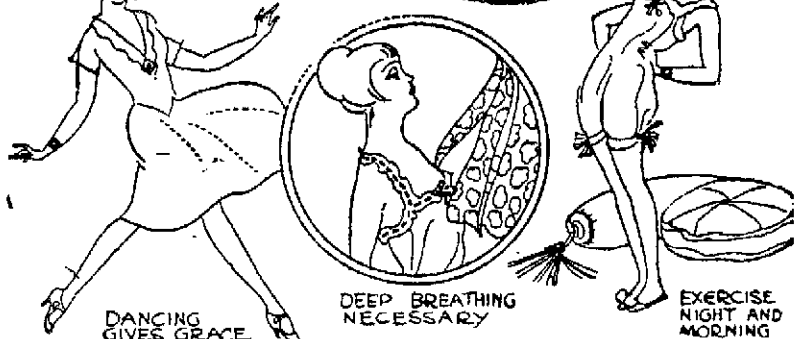

There are many traits, fully as interesting, which have not gotten into the literature of naturalists.

MARRIAGE A LA MODE

Some people have all the luck—among the Caciques, it is the chiefs. They may have as many wives as they want, but the common tribesmen may have only one.

However should a man's wife prove unsatisfactory he may always repudiate her for the slightest cause and then he is at liberty to try again.

HOW TO ATTAIN GRACE

BY MARGARET PETIT

Dancer Celebrated for Her Grace

An ungraceful body will destroy the charm of the most beautiful face, while a graceful one will redeem the plainest features.

Grace is the result of complete control. No training teaches such absolute control as dancing—classic dancing, not the ball-room variety.

Correct breathing and arm exercises also should be a part of every woman's program, night and morning.

Let your arms hang free from your shoulders and place the hands side by side, palms inward and thumbs interlaced in front of you. Raise the hands straight over your head, inhaling a deep breath. Hold your arms free while you count five. Then slowly lower them while you exhale.

Dancing, running and kicking have value because they exercise the muscles of the legs.

Sweeping is very fine exercise if a woman holds her broom properly. Walking upstairs is recommended as a flesh reducer.

When dressing and undressing practice walking on your tiptoes—excellent for your feet and ankles.

TAFFETA

Taffeta gowns are scarce this year, but taffeta coats and capes are very stylish, particularly in the delicate shades of blue, peach and tan. These are, of course, for evening wear, and they are usually lined with chiffon or some delicate metallic fabric.

CREPE FROCKS

The washable silk crepe frock is solving the summer dress problem of many women. As the season advances the suit is seldom seen, except the light silk ones which are really worn as costumes.

LONG SKIRTS

For evening, gowns are being worn very long. It is said the first thing the American traveler does when she arrives in Paris is to buy a gown with a long skirt, so she will look like the Parisiennes.

Chicago—Ten years ago George D. Gaw was turning flipflops on the minstrel stage and wondering where his next meal was coming from.

Today at 32 he's president of one of the largest envelope manufacturing plants in the country, owns a palatial home and has about everything else money can buy.

Gaw started on the road to success by making envelopes and stationery paste at home in the evening and peddling them from a push cart next day.

"Work for yourself if it's only selling shoestrings at the corner stand," he advises. Gaw's factory here is regarded as a model plant where the principles of golden-rule and square-deal to employ are constantly adhered to. Yes, he's a millionaire.

Today's word is FUTILE. It's pronounced fu-till, accent on the first syllable, the u long, and the i short.

It means—useless, trifling, ineffectual. It comes from the Latin fulillus, meaning "that easily pours out, or lets loose," derived from the root of fundere, to pour out.

It's used like this: "He made a futile effort to prevent calamity."

PRINTS FOR FROCKS

BY MARY BROOKS PICKEN

One must be specific in speaking of prints nowadays, for they are likely to be any kind of material besides that which actually bears the name, that is, the old time calico. Printed crepe de Chine is in much favor in most shops and its beauty and adaptability share equally in making it a popular fabric.

Tan and red figures are printed on white crepe de Chine for the material of this frock, making an unusual yet wholly pleasing color combination.

The drapery of the skirt, the drop shoulder, and the bateau neck line are not new, except in their arrangement, which is achieved chiefly by simplicity of line and pattern.

The ornament at the waist-line closing is of crepe de Chine covered cord, which is twisted to a size appropriate to the position it occupies.

The hat, broad at the sides with the left flared a trifle, is made of white horsehair and faced in black Canton. Four large white gardenias form the under- and over-brim trimming at the right side.

IF YOU ARE WELL BRED

You remember always it is a guest's duty to be courteous to any other visitors at the same home, no matter what her personal feelings may be, and to forbear from starting any arguments or discussions that might become heated.

You do not give the servants any orders or use your hostesses' property as freely as you do your own. You do not refuse any social engagements your hostess makes for you.

TESTED RECIPE

VEGETABLE SALAD

By Bertha E. Shapleigh
One of the reasons that many people do not serve salad is that the family does not like oil. Another reason is that one does not always have lettuce, and most recipes for salad call for lettuce.

The following recipe uses very little oil and no lettuce:

- 1 cup shredded cabbage
- 1 cup celery cut in small pieces
- 2 cucumbers, pared and cut in very small pieces (or they may be chopped)
- 3 tomatoes, chopped
- 1 red pepper, fresh or canned
- 2 green peppers cut in small pieces
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 3 tablespoons oil

Mix all the ingredients in a bowl thoroughly, and serve very cold.

If you do not have celery use twice as much cabbage and add one-fourth teaspoon celery salt.

This salad is especially good served with fried or broiled fish and with cold meat.

(Cut this out and paste it in your cook book.)

YOUR JOB

BY ELIZABETH ARNOLD

Employment Expert

Loyalty between employer and employee should be "50-50." Your employer has a right to expect the same loyalty that he gives. If workers are discharged without notice, then workers have a right to leave without notice. If, however, your employer makes it a custom to give workers reasonable notice before releasing them, and you walk out without notice you are not playing fair and some other worker is apt to suffer on account of your lack of consideration. Never make the mistake that Jack did when he announced in public that Brown Brothers, his employers' competitors, had the best department store in town. When this was repeated to his employer he was discharged and told that Brown Brothers was the place for him to work. So long as you work for an organization, speak well of it or hold your tongue. If you cannot do this—quit.

Some shops are now selling partly finished lingerie—that is, finished with the exception of the trimming. This the buyer may add to suit her particular taste and her pocketbook. It is an excellent idea for women who dislike to cut and put together their garments, but enjoy doing the decorative touches.

KIMBERLY IS GETTING READY FOR GAME WITH DALE

League Leaders Will Not Chance Unpreparedness

Kimberly Players Believe Dale Formidable With Plecheck in Condition

Manager Behrendt of the Kimberly County league team will have his league leading outfit out for four strenuous drill sessions this week in preparation for the game with Dale next Sunday.

Kimberly regards the Dale team as the heaviest outfit in the league. With Plech, Dale's star moundman, in condition Kimberly will have no easy task to win. Plech is an old hand, and uses good judgment. His cross fire is bewildering and with his hop on the ball he will make the Kimberly team work to win. Most of the defeats that this star hurler has suffered were due to error on the part of his teammates.

During the past week the Kimberly fans have been rolling the diamond to get it into good condition for Sunday's tussle. The fans will be out in numbers Sunday to give support to their team and reports from Dale indicate that a large number of bugs from that village will also be there to root for their favorites.

Manager Behrendt is negotiating for games with teams from Milwaukee and Chicago to be played when the league season is finished. Contests probably will be staged with the McCoy-Nolans, Milwaukee Red Sox, Union Giants and other strong independent teams.

Another pitcher will be needed for these games and negotiations are being made with Plech. With Plech and Plechek on the hurling staff, Manager Behrendt believes that his team will be able to put up a strong game against these outfits.

NEW YORK YANKS GET M'QUILLIAN

By Associated Press
New York — Following the trade early last week of Joe Dugan and Elmer Smith of the Boston Americans to the New York Yankees, the New York National league club announced that it has secured the services of Hugh McQuillian, promising young pitcher from the Boston Nationals.

In trade for McQuillian Boston received Fred Toney, a veteran with a great record, Larry Benton a young pitcher sent to the Memphis club by the Giants, and Walter Houlahan, a left hander from Middlebury College in Vermont. Boston is said to have received a large sum of money also.

ROD AND REEL

By DIXIE CARROLL

BRINGING FISH TO NET

Up out of the water and back again is favorite trick of the bass, and when he flops back if he lands on a taut line he nearly always makes a relay. As he comes up out of the water let your rod straighten out and give him slack, but take it away from him as he strikes the water. Outside of when a bass breaks water the line should be taut at all times, and keep a bend in the rod. This spring of the rod is the pressure that eventually tires him while you are playing him. Trying to hurry the fish to the net is often the cause of a lost big one. Give him line when he wants it, but make him fight for it, reeling in at every chance. If you have him out in clean water, away from the weeds and snags of the shallows, give him a bit of line and enjoy a real piece of sport by playing him until he shows his wide side up.

When you bring a fish to net lead him up to the net. Have the net about a foot under water and lead your fish right into it. Don't move the net towards him. That scares a fish into a fight of renewed vigor that will likely end with a lost fish. Keep the net perfectly still and when he is inside raise it with a quick motion into the boat.

The majority of bass strike an artificial bait the moment it hits the water or as it starts on the way back to the cast, although at times they will strike close up to the boat. This makes it necessary to make a quick transfer of the rod from the right hand to the left, and start reeling in the line as the bait hits the water. This prompt starting of the reel gives you a taut line, and many bass hit the lure with enough force to hook themselves if the line is taut. It also makes your strike more effective. You have a better chance to set the hook firmly with a taut line than to try it with slack.

KIMBERLY AND COMBINED LOCKS PLAY SATURDAY

The baseball game between the Kimberly-Clark and Combined Locks Industrial league teams which was scheduled to be played last Saturday will be played next Saturday. Several players of each team were unable to take part in the game last week so the contest was put off by mutual consent. The game will be played at Kimberly.

White Bear, Minn. — Cantavashack, skippered by L. P. Ordway, Jr., won the second of a three-race series between American and Canadian yachts. The count was Americans 13, Canadians 7.

Toledo, O. — Jessie Riggs won the News-Des state in the 240 pace futurity race of the Grand Circuit program.

WHITE SOX WIN FROM NEW YORK YANKEES, 3 TO 2

Robertson Wins Duel From Shawkey Who Has One Bad Inning

Chicago — New York's pennant chances were given another bump on Monday, when Chicago defeated the Yankees, 3 to 2. The game was a pitching duel between Bob Shawkey and Charley Robertson, the former pitched airtight ball except in the sixth, when the locals started a rally after two men were out by bunting four of their five hits. Eddie Mulligan started the attack with a triple and Collins and Hooper came through with singles. It remained up to the veteran, Amos Strunk, to win. He tripled, sending Collins and Hooper home and giving the White Sox their winning margin.

The visitors got a run in the first on a walk, a hit and infield out, but were helpless against Robertson until the eighth, when he wavered and was replaced by Leverette after one run had scored and the bases were filled with two out.

Leverette stopped the Yankees from then to the finish. Both teams fished perfectly, the work of Scott being especially noteworthy. Score: New York .1 0 0 0 0 0 1 0—2 6 0 Chicago .0 0 0 0 0 0 3 0—3 5 0 Batteries: Shawkey, Murray and Schang; Robertson, Leverette and Schalk.

TIGERS BEAT ATHLETICS
Detroit — Detroit made it three straight from Philadelphia on Monday, pounding four pitchers for eighteen hits and winning, 11 to 1. Cobb doubled his last time at bat, bringing to fifteen the consecutive number of games in which he has hit safely. Rigney had a perfect day at bat with five hits out of as many times up. Score: Phil .0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 0—1 7 4 Detroit .1 1 4 0 1 1 1 2—11 8 0 Batteries: Rettig, Helmach, Eckert, Sullivan, Perkins, Oldham and Manion.

WILLIAMS GETS 26TH HOMER
St. Louis — The Browns increased their lead to one and one-half games over the Yankees on Monday by defeating the Red Sox, 6 to 2, while the White Sox were trimming New York. St. Louis scored all its runs in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings on eight of its twelve hits, including home runs by Tobin and Williams, the latter's twenty-sixth of the season. Van Gilder pitched effectively with men on bases. Score: St. Louis .0 1 0 1 0 0 0 0—6 9 0 New York .0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0—2 11 1 Batteries: Sherdel and Almsmith; Ruether, Bernaux, Shriver, S. Smith and DeBerry.

TRAILING THE TEAMS
St. Louis clubs in both major leagues Tuesday continued trading pennant. As Ken Williams pined out his twenty-sixth homer, the Browns won from the Red Sox 6 to 2 and increased their lead over the Yankees who lost another close tilt to the White Sox, 3 to 2, to a game and a half.

The Cardinals, finding Dutch Reuther, the Brooklyn ace, easy, marched on to another victory over the Dodgers and crept within a half a game of the leaders when the Giants succumbed to the dashing, spirited attack of the Pirates and dropped the third straight contest to them, 12 to 5.

And the Cubs, still harboring pennant hopes, pointed an easy victory out of the Phillies 13 to 5 thereby staying off the tantalizing Reds, who with Luque's combination hitting and pitching defeated the Braves 6 to 3.

The White Sox victory over the Yanks kept them in third place ahead of Cobb's men who won another decision from Philadelphia 11 to 6. The Indians won from Washington 14 to 5.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON COMING TO AMERICA

By Associated Press
New York — Sir Thomas Lipton, who monopolized the challenging for America's cup the Blue Ribband trophy of International Yacht racing and who has failed in four attempts to take it across the seas, is coming to the United States in September and it is reported in yachting circles, will challenge again.

After his Shamrock IV was defeated in 1920 by the American defender Resolute, Sir Thomas said he would challenge again for a race in 1922, but would wait until this fall to give other yachtsmen an opportunity to challenge. Nobody has challenged, so Sir Thomas is coming over.

It is reported that Sir Thomas may ask for a change in the craft from sloops to schooners. But regardless of what rig, his challenger will be called Shamrock V.

While some of the Chicago recruits, notably the pitchers, have done good work for Manager Killifer of the Cubs, Charley Hollocher, the sensational shortstop of that team, is perhaps the outstanding star.

Hollocher is a great ball player. He has the old fighting spirit that keeps the club on edge. His fielding is always high class, and at the bat he is mighty dangerous.

Five years ago no one would have for a minute thought to overlook Grover Cleveland Alexander. The great pitcher is a member of the Cubs, but Alexander is not the "Alex" of old.

Every now and then he turns in the sort of a game that once characterized his efforts any time he stepped on the rubber. Of late, however, he has lacked consistency. Father Time seems to be demanding his toll.

The Cubs have a number of promising recruits, but, after all, it looks as if the honor of being the most valuable man on the club right now fully belongs to Charley Hollocher.

BAY FOOTBALL TEAM TO PLAY MILWAUKEE

Milwaukee — Manager Joe Plunkett of the Milwaukee football team has announced the closing of two games on the schedule of the Cream City Brewers.

A home and home series has been arranged with Green Bay, probably one of the most famous professional eleven in the country. This crack squad will invade Milwaukee on Oct. 22 for a game at Athletic park while on Sunday, Nov. 26, the Milwaukee aggregation will play at Green Bay.

According to Plunkett, the Green Bay squad this year will be stronger than ever and he expects the double up series to be a good business getter at the gate.

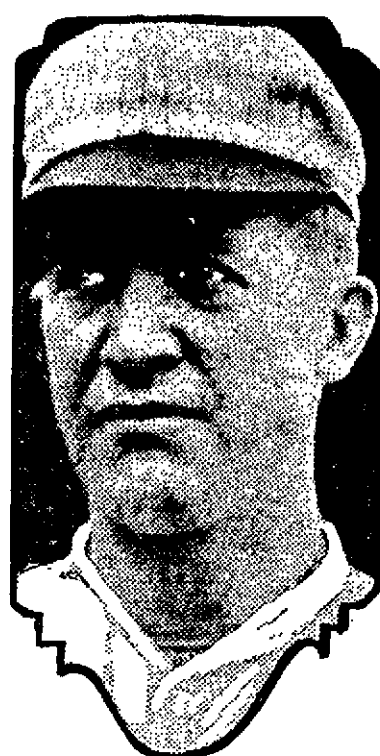

The Milwaukee team's schedule will include two games with the Racine Legion as well as other contests with the best eleven in the country. Only A-1 attractions will be booked, according to Plunkett.

SUMMARY OF SPORTS

Chicago — Maj. John Griffith, commissioner of athletics of the western conference announced he would assume his new duties and open an office in Chicago at once.

London — Joe E. Capablanca, world's champion chess master, defeated M. Euwe of Holland, in the first round of the international tournament.

Sioux City, Ia. — Wray Brown, Missouri Valley singles tennis champion won the first round match in the interstate meet, defeating W. R. Towns, of Sioux City.

WALTER SAYS OTHER TEAMS ENVIED BAY

President of Green Bay Club Lays Much of Blame on Kluwin and Oshkosh

Upon learning that the Green Bay baseball club had been expelled from the Fox River Valley league G. A. Walter, president of the club, expressed amazement. The charges made against the club by directors of the league were denied by the president and he laid the whole affair to jealousy of the Bay team on the part of the other clubs of the circuit.

Following is the statement made by Mr. Walter:

"The policy of the club was not left in the hands of any one man. The trouble in the Fox River Valley league appears to be 'too much Kluwin and too much Oshkosh.'

"Green Bay has not taken advantage of any club in the league. Only they happened to be first in the field with a winner. That also appears to be the rub."

APPLE CREEK LOSES TO WINCHESTER TEAM, 11-7

The Apple Creek baseball team lost its game at Winchester last Sunday by the score of 11 to 7. A home run by Stegebauer of the Creek team was the feature of the game. Gressler, Brautigan and Ziegler was the Apple Creek battery.

Next Sunday the Behnke and Jens teams will play at Apple Creek.

How Is Your Canning Coming Along?

The canning season is here right now. Nature is giving of her store; vegetables and fruits are ripe.

A little pamphlet before us, written by a celebrated cook, makes this statement—

"Any woman may can and preserve with success, given materials, common sense, and a dependable cooking medium."

And the most practical and dependable of all cooking mediums is the Cabinet Gas Range!

For canning and preserving food easily, quickly and successfully, the STEWART Gas Range is unequalled.

The use of Gas eliminates all the troublesome preliminaries of the old fuel stove way of cooking. Your fuel is THERE with the turn of a valve—you don't have to carry it in.

Gas insures economy. You can regulate the heat to a fraction of a degree and calculate the time your cooking will take to a nicety. There's no fuel wasted in building a fire or in letting your coals die out. Your expense ceases the instant you turn out the burner. With solid fuels rising steadily in cost, the economy of Gas for cooking should be increasingly apparent to you.

Don't take chances with your preserving on an old cook stove, with all its fuss and muss. Order your STEWART Gas Range now from our large stock. You'll wonder how you ever got along without it. Extended payments for your convenience.

Chicago — Babe Ruth's contention that a world's series player should be allowed to do his stuff in the bushes after the season is over was upheld by the American league owners here on Thursday and no less a personage than the Bam's beetle browed nemesis, Judge Landis, started the ball rolling.

On Landis' motion, the magnate adopted a resolution allowing championship players to barnstorm after the big series. The judge merely stated that he thought the rule prohibiting barnstorming needed a modification, but by so doing he made a howl to Ruth who was laid off until May 20 this season on account of his violation of the rule, thereby ruining his home run transmission. Ruth yelled "it ain't right" so loud he sprained his tonsils.

But the magnates didn't come all the way.

Here are the new regulations: No championship player can show in exhibition games after Oct. 31. Only three men who took part in the world's series can appear in any one game.

Consent of the club owners and Commissioner Landis must be obtained.

The rule providing that a player can take part in exhibition games only until Oct. 31 was made so ambitious young men would not try to play ball until Christmas and get chilblains in valuable elbows. This will not prevent southern winter leagues. It is stated, although this point was not made clear officially.

The ruling limiting three players of world's series games to any one game was made to prevent hippodroming by big leaguers who sometimes think their appearances on the field is enough for the "Tommies" it was said.

Taxi Twins Win Second Game Of Quoits Series

By way of evening things up a bit the "Taxi Twins" defeated the "Junction Pair" in the second horse shoe pitching match of the three game series scheduled between the two teams. After the clanking of the irons had subsided the final score, again chalked up on the Junction coal shed, stood 50 to 41 with Speed Demons in the lead.

This makes a victory for each team and the final saw-off will happen sometime in the near future.

Yanks-Red Sox trade did not develop as heatedly as forecast. Owner Harry Frazee of Boston forestalled much of it by talking first.
